Ifeatu-Ifediche is comprised of a group of professional women who believe there is nothing more beautiful than someone who goes out of her way to better the lives of others. We focus our charitable investments on women because women invest in others such as their children, spouses and community.

The women of Ifeatu-Ifediche understand that women are the soul of any nation. When a woman is supported, she and her entire family are strengthened. When a loaf of bread is given to a woman, that loaf goes home with her and it's shared among household members and others who may have come to the home unannounced. Be it a child or an adult, everyone gets a share of that bread.

Women and children are the most vulnerable population in any nation. They are typically more impacted by social disparities and poverty. Despite their important role within a community, when these disparities and poverty exist, they lack access to education, employment and healthcare. They are also less likely to be property owners, land owners or engage in entrepreneurship.

Because we know that improving the well-being of women and children is paramount, Ifeatu-Ifediche is devoted to promoting empowerment, access to food (especially during holiday seasons when all family members are gathered together), free education and much more. Our most recent work took place within the Ogbaru Community in Anambra State when we responded to the needs of vulnerable women and children who suffered from the deadly flood crisis that displaced families from October 2018 to November 2018. Our work is not finished in this community as we have more to do to improve the lives of families devastated by this horrendous flooding.

I will be remiss if I did not mention our charity work in United State. In the state of New Jersey, we have worked with domestic violence shelters, young teen mothers at Apostles House and Sierra House, local community churches and donate food to local food banks as well as community outreach during Hurricane Sandy.

We are committed and devoted to continuing this journey with the vulnerable women and children in our community because we understand there is no exercise better for the heart than reaching down and lifting people. Please lend a hand!

To all our donors, present and past, I say thank you.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Ogugua Ezidiegwu

President

A Journey Remembered

As some people journey through life, the leave footprints wherever they go—footprints of kindness and love, courage and compassion, honor and inspiration, joy and faith.

Even when they are gone, we can still look back and clearly see the trail they left behind—a trail bright with hope that invites us to follow.

God bless
